Xian: A Journey into the Past (3 Days/2 Nights)

Xian, first capital of the Middle Kingdom, attracts its visitors by thousands of years of history and unique sight-seeing spots such as the stunning Army of Terracotta Warriors and the giant City Wall. The metropolis locates south of the Wei River which is known as the cradle of Chinese civilisation. Xian once rivalled with Rome for the title of the greatest city in the world. During the Tang dynasty China experienced its commercial and cultural zenith. Today Xian surprises by its Muslim Quarter with numbers of mosques and lively night markets. As starting point of the legendary Silk Road or first capital of China, Xian is a journey into the past.

Day 1: Shanghai to Xian

Morning flight Shanghai - Xian

Meet & Greet at Airport

Transfer to hotel and hotel check-in

In the afternoon your private guided tour will take you to the Big Wild Goose Pagoda south of the city centre. The pagoda is set in a temple complex which was built by Tang emperor Gao Zhong in emory of his deceased mother. Over the years the striking - 64 meters tall - pagoda was restored and renovated many times. If you want you can climb to the top for a view of the city. From the pagoda to the south gate of the impressive ancient City Walls it is just a short drive. Xian is one of the very few cities in China where the old walls are almost completely maintained. The walls are also perfect for a walk or even a bicycle tour overlooking the city centre. Right behind the Drum Tower you will enter the lively Muslim Quarter with numbers of narrow streets, butcher shops and food markets. The Great Mosque in the center is one of the largest in China. Especially in the evening when the streets get crowded with outdoor dinings and vendors this place becomes busy.

restored army. A panoramic cinema next to the vaults colourfully introduces the history of Qin Shi Huang Di and his terracotta guards. During the Tang dynasty these hot springs were a popular recreation spot for emperors and their concubines. On a clear day you can enjoy nice views of the nearby Lishan Mountain. In the evening we recommend a dinner at one of the numerous Dumplings restaurants. Xians speciality is served in countless taste variations.
